With all the current talk about our war on terror and external threats to our security, how can we possibly consider a sale of approximately 25% of U.S. fiber capacity to the Chinese? The damage done to investors and employees of Global Crossing is incalculable. While a few insiders have reaped millions. Not only are we obligated to stop this sale, we must prosecute all crimes associated with Global Crossings demise no matter where it leads. So please, do the right thing.

Sincerely, Bob Horvath
